

We want to thank everyone who has made a difference in the life of New Orleans' performers through your support of the NOMC!

Did you know, the Musicians' Clinic was conceived in 1996 at a Phish performance during Jazz Fest? In particular, we are so grateful to Sybil Morial, Dr. Jack McConnell (Volunteers in Medicine), Bethany and Johann Bultman, the LSU Health Science Center and Healthcare network, the national and local musicians' unions, the daughters of charity health systems, Quint Davis and the board of the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Foundation, for believing that performers could overcome the culture of health disparity in New Orleans and created a path to make that happen.

Thanks to their efforts, and every single one of our supporters since, we still follow the mission to keep local music ALIVE until we become redundant.
